ONCE A WEEK

By H. T. Matson

The Poet let his head incline
Upon his desk, in tears—
(He hadn't sold a single line
For years and years and years)

Beside him, bleak rejection-slips
Lay in a row—
The Poet cried through bitter lips
"Have Editors no feeling?"

"Your work," they scoff, "is far too fine
For Hor Pollor to follow.
Try odes to sin or swill or swine,
(The Public loves to wallow!)"

"Dilate on iridescent Blondes,
Or dope, or bloodsoaked pillows,
Abandon 'dallings' with ponds
And frogs and Weeping Willows!"

"Your lines on limpid fly-fucked cows
Add bleatsome lambs, though frisky,
Are slop," each Editor avows:
"Try sex, aligned with whiskey!"

"Or stuff that folk can't understand
Like Stein, and modern Art, sir,
At utter eye-wash try your hand,
Put horse behind the cart, sir!"

The Poet thinned, his ego sank,
Said thoughts were darkly oozing:
He ceased to shave; his credit stank,
And soon he took to boozing.

At last, with mind be-soot with rum
He swore "Odds fish, I'll do it!"
I'm sick of being called a bum . . .
Be-damned if I'll eschew it!

Right thereupon, with eyes agloat
And nose a moist vermilion,
The Works of Freud he backwards wrote,
Then sold them for a 'million'!

Workmen moved into Westminster Abbey in London Monday to begin the seven-month job of getting the historic church in shape for the coronation. Main work involves building 7,500 tiered seats around the ancient stone pillars at the sides of the church and raising a $50,000 annex where the coronation procession will assemble.

Log Boom Sections Lost in Wind Storm

Five or six sections of a large log boom were lost off Benson Park during the height of Sunday's severe wind storm. By late afternoon the released logs were strewn along the Dallas Road waterfront from Ross Bay in the breakwater.

Local weather authorities said the wind averaged about 50 miles an hour with frequent gusts of up to 64 miles an hour.

A large power vessel dragged her anchor for a considerable distance at Ladboro Bay and was headed for almost certain destruction on nearby rocks before being saved by a group of Royal Victoria Yacht Club members who went out in a smaller craft and managed to tow the vessel in distress to safety.

LITTLE DAMAGE
There was comparatively little damage reported ashore. Police received several calls of a minor nature, while fishermen answered a number of calls of missing chimneys and a couple of flooded oil burners.

Careful Drivers To Benefit

Car Insurance Rates Will Rise in Canada

BY HARRY YOUNG

About 100,000 Canadian motorists will be eligible for a 20 per cent discount on their car insurance next year, but their insurance will not cost them any less.

The Dominion Board of Insurance Underwriters yesterday announced that more than 100 companies writing automobile insurance in Canada, had agreed in principle to a plan that would offer a no-accident discount on 1953 rates on public liability and property damage insurance to drivers in the "A-1" insurance classification.

Commenting on the decision, a Victoria auto insurance man said that in his opinion the 1953 rates would show such an increase that even with the 20 per cent discount, the car premium will still cost more than it did in 1952.

The increase in rates is likely to be between 20 and 35 per cent. "What is going to happen is that the careful motorist who has not had a claim for three years will get some relief from the latest increase," he said.

SAFER DRIVING

The announcement said that the discount was being introduced "as a means of promoting safer driving and in an attempt to keep insurance costs down for careful drivers in the face of sharp increases in the accident record and in the average costs of accidents."

Making it clear that the plan was experimental in character, the board added that it would be confined to insured drivers with a three-year no-accident record in the A-1 category only during 1953. The A-1 category covers pleasure cars not driven by people under 25 years of age.

The plan for the present is confined to public liability and property damage coverage and does not extend to other coverage such as collision or fire and theft.

"The fact that automobile insurance companies lost more than $6,000,000 last year is an indication that the present rate structure is inadequate to meet the sharp increase in claims cost now facing companies," the statement said.

"This plan has been worked out in an attempt to find a way to reduce accidents on the one hand by offering motorists a financial inducement to drive carefully, and also to keep the burden of higher rates from falling on the accident-free driver who is not responsible for the upward trend in rates."

TRADITIONAL TIME

The announcement added that in view of the new plan and the great amount of statistic work involved before new rates could be established, member companies of the board would not be ready to announce their new rate structure at the traditional time in mid-December.

Woman Climbs Into Grave To Die

BARKINGSIDE England, Dec. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Anne Rowling, 66, often went to the cemetery to sit beside the grave of her husband, who died two years ago. She was missing four days. Then her daughter found her dead.

In an open grave near her husband, she apparently had pushed a plank aside, climbed in and died of starvation. In the hope of pulling the plank back over her, her daughter found her dead.

Scotland is raising its own plank, aside, climbed in and died of starvation. In the hope of pulling the plank back over her, her daughter found her dead.

U.N. Votes Solidly For Indian Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 1 (AP).—The United Nations today displayed unprecedented unity in voting for a proposal to change the Korean problem by voting its 53 to 5 Monday night in the political committee for an Indian plan to end the fighting through a compromise on the war prize.

Architect Of Treaty Dies at 92

ROME, Dec. 1 (AP).—Vittorio Emanuele Orlando, 92, last surviving of the Big Four architects of the peace of Versailles, died at his home Monday night.

The man who steered Italy to victory in the First World War suffered a stroke a week ago. Although he clung tenaciously to life, he knew the end was near.

Before he sank into a coma Wednesday, the silver-haired Sicilian statesman, called "premier of victory" by the Italians, asked for the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Orlando's family kept a long vigil at the bedside. His daughter, Mrs. Carlotta Carabelli, her husband and their daughter kept the hand in water. Orlando's four sons, Camillo, Francesco, Carlo and Ambrogio.

Until the afternoon he fell ill, Orlando stayed at work, attending sessions of the senate, in which he was a lifetime member. Just a week ago, he returned home from a late Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky session, his daughter was awakened by the pawing of his family's pet dog on her bedroom door. She found her father slumped in the corridor.

East German Force Nearly Doubles Size

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP).—but according to evidence which Britain accuses Russia of nearly doubling the size and firepower of a modern East German land air and sea force within the last six months.

A press statement issued Monday night by the foreign office said the East German "people's police" is developing into a well-organized force with modern weapons closely supervised by Soviet officers.

The three arms of the East German force constitute nucleus units with a high proportion of officers, and as such can swiftly be expanded if present coercive methods of recruitment are intensified, the statement said.

Until recently the force was estimated to be about 35,000 strong, the foreign office said.

Oddities

ROME, Dec. 1 (NANA-Kemnews).—The Pope, concerned at the mounting rate of traffic accidents all over the world, is preparing a new encyclical on motor traffic.

Since all papal encyclicals have to be in Latin, the Pope's secretary had a hard task translating into the language of the ancient Romans such modern terms as motorcar, driver and speeding. Motorcar will be translated as "currys mobilis," driver will be "duictor, currys mobilis."

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP).—doctor pokes fun at the British habit of wearing woollen under wear in the winter and said it is time for a change.

Dr. Gerald Ishens, says wool merchants introduced winter woollens hundreds of years ago as a profit-making scheme.

He said underwear made of cotton dishcloth is healthier, cheaper and less itchy.

Foiled again!

Saar Votes French

SAARBRIEUCKEN, Saar, Dec. 1 (AP).—This disputed border state's French-backed government was returned to office today with a clear majority in parliamentary elections and with only one-fourth of the voters showing a desire to rejoin Germany.

Complete official returns from Sunday's balloting gave the Christian People's party of Prime Minister Johannes Hoffman 55 per cent of the valid vote, compared with 51.4 per cent at the last election in 1947. The party will probably hold 29 of the 30 seats in parliament.

The Social Democrats held second place with 33 per cent of the legal votes and will likely get 17 seats. Communists, with a 9 per cent vote, rate four seats. Three per cent of the votes went to a new faction, the Democratic People's Party.

Hoffman predicted in a victory statement that France and Germany will soon resume previous talks seeking a peaceful settlement of the Saar issue.

Labor Board Calls Meeting Of Disputants

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1 (CP).—Southern British Columbia interior lumber manufacturers and union representatives for more than 3,000 woodworkers will be called before the Labor Relations Board Wednesday in an attempt to settle their wage dispute.

A spokesman for the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.O.) said today they will attend the meeting.

An official of the manufacturers' association said the meeting won't be necessary because memoranda of agreement have been signed by management and union representatives on six operations, and more are expected late today.

Yesterday the association said operations where the workers do not agree by Wednesday in continuation of the 1951-52 wages-and-hours contract would be closed down.

The ancient seaport of Falmouth in Cornwall is said to have the finest harbor in England.

Rail Wage Negotiations Wait for Call to Meeting

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP).—No move toward resumed negotiations in the deadlocked rail wage dispute have developed. There seems to be some doubt all around as to who is to get them started.

The railways and unions representing 141,000 non-operating employees, who split last week over acceptance of a conciliation board finding in their long contract dispute, are willing to meet again for the first time since early fall.

But there was no indication Monday of whether one or the other of the disputants, or the federal labor department, would take the initiative. Each ap

Specific Needs Listed To Cut Dollar Drain

LONDON, Dec. 1 (CP).—Commonwealth ministers want to put products, cotton, copper, zinc, men, machines and money to aluminum, steel, fertilizers and work to save dollars within the engineering products.

In considering development programs, the conference decided countries Commonwealth economic to consider balance of payments problems discussed were reduced from wheat to engineering products, whose increased production in sterling-area countries would reduce the dollar drain.

In the case of wheat, for instance, it was noted that in 1950-51, the sterling area imported 51,400,000 tons from dollar sources, principally Canada, at a cost of $100,000,000.

It was understood that Canadian officials take no objection to increased Commonwealth production of wheat, one of Canada's leading products. For one thing, Canada is "bullish" about wheat at the moment, and for another, Canadian ministers have always said that all they want is a free market run.

The other commodities dis

Drop in Pork Floor Opposed

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP).—Many delegates to the annual two-toha contends that the Canadian government may cause a flood of pork on Christmas markets if it proceeds with its plan to cut the hog-price support by three cents a pound next month.

Two other provinces, Ontario and Nova Scotia, joined Monday with Agriculture Minister R. D. Robertson at Manitoba in an appeal for retention of the federal 26-cent a pound pork floor review it to be too far in one direction.

The appeal was voiced as the 14th annual federal provincial agricultural conference heard a federal livestock expert predict a further drop in meat prices in 1953, both in Canada and the United States.

Selling the P.G.E.

LIKE Brooklyn's famous bridge, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway has been "sold" many times on paper. Offers for the purchase of the provincially-owned railway have been almost as numerous at times in the past as German marks were when their equivalent was akin to that of a make-shift wallpaper. Governments in office and Oppositions out of it have come forward with scheme after scheme that has been adroitly "drawn to their attention." Unhappily, for the record these erstwhile promotions did not get beyond the stage of being grandiose plans upon paper. Nobody, in the past at least, really wanted to lift the paper and buy the P.G.E. One is not surprised that the idea has been revived, and that overtures of some sort have been made to the new provincial government. Most observers would have been thoroughly alarmed if the days had become so far abnormal that nobody wished to sell the P.G.E.

Between proposal and accomplishment, however, there is often a wide gap. When several billion dollars go looking for investment they are generally capable of announcing themselves without the help of any entrepreneur. To sell the P.G.E. with concessions tantamount to a sizable piece of British Columbia territory running north-west into Alaska might be compared with the purchase of the Alaska Panhandle. It is an affair wherein the sovereignty of nations would at once be involved. When that day comes one does not expect it will emerge out of any promoter's pocket. Meanwhile, and basically, there is no good reason at the moment why the P.G.E. should be sold. It is doing nicely, with livelier prospects ahead.

The kind of future for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway that would interest British Columbians would be its incorporation one day into the established transcontinental rail systems of this country. To both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National the P.G.E. could act as a north-and-south feeder line, wherein fresh revenues would be tapped. Although they have often looked, so far neither Canadian railway system has grown serious about those prospects. Times are changing, however, and the day may come when one or even both of them may be heard from in that connection. Meanwhile any "sale" of the P.G.E. which would alienate it and a large slice of British Columbia simultaneously from Canada is not likely to be considered seriously.

Opportunity for Reform

NINETEEN of the Canadian Senate's 102 seats are vacant; and while the number of vacancies is not as large as it has been in other years, it still represents almost 20 per cent what should be the effective strength of the Upper House. Ontario and Quebec, each with 24 seats, have five and six vacancies respectively, and New Brunswick has four of its 10 seats unoccupied. Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan and Alberta have their full complement, and the rest of the provinces have one vacancy each.

Some of the vacancies have existed for so long that the only conclusion one can reach is that Prime Minister St. Laurent regards the Senate as being of little importance—a superfluous body created by the constitution and drawing indemnities merely for going through the motions of functioning as a house of parliament. If that is the prime minister's view of the Senate it is a regrettable one, for every so often something crops up in the Senate debates to show how valuable its watchdog role could be if that august body received the invigoration it needs.

At the moment Mr. St. Laurent has an excellent opportunity to fill the Senate on the basis of ability instead of reserving Senate seats as rewards for past services in the House of Commons. Members of Parliament have voted themselves such a generous pension plan—far more advantageous than most private citizens could afford to finance for themselves during their working years—that there is no longer much excuse for treating a Senate indemnity as a pension. If he wanted to, Mr. St. Laurent could now carry out the reform which the Senate has needed so long. If he does not do that, the inference must be that the prime minister does not want the aging Senate to be a force in the politics of the country any more potent than it is at present.

Mr. Herbert Anscomb

WITH the election of a new leader for the provincial Progressive Conservative party Mr. Herbert Anscomb recedes from the political stage on which he has been so prominent an actor. Henceforth the limelight will pass him by, unless, since he is still a vigorous personality, he chooses to enter the lists in the wider national realm. The name Anscomb has been such a household word in this community that its retirement is equivalent to the end of an era. So forceful has been the impact of this burly, dynamic figure that his mark is imprinted deeply on the public record, and it is one that commands respect. Few able men have put their talents at the disposal of the electorate.

Of Mr. Anscomb's personal creed, that of stern forthright purpose, there never was any doubt. It was perhaps the defect of his virtues that he should seem to scorn public favor through conciliation or appeasement, preferring to hew to the line as he saw it come fair or foul weather. He did not court popularity as most politicians are wont to do, but pursued his policies with a wholehearted conviction which if not always acceptable was nevertheless free from cant or pretense.

These characteristics were reflected all through his public career as reeve of Oak Bay, mayor of Victoria, M.L.A., and cabinet minister, and to each office he brought an unusually competent mind. His talents as an administrator were widely acknowledged, and no more efficient finance minister ever presided over the provincial treasury. If the art of politics be also to engender good will and affection, as no doubt it is, then in this phase he was less successful, but he leaves behind him a record of public service that is to his credit and should give him lasting satisfaction.

PEMBERTON WOODS

Sir:—Owing to the fact that our elected civic body is not disposed to discuss the problem of Pemberton Woods Park with the taxpayers concerned, may I ask what principle activates this council which in the face of absolute opposition from property owners in this immediate area, summarily proposes to take away this dedicated park, set aside by order and passed by three-fourths majority less than a year ago?

All of us built our lifetime homes nearby and adjacent to this park, at the prevailing high costs, within the last four years.

Will the property owners not affected pass a plebiscite, aiding and abetting such tactics to deprive us of our savings? I am sure they will not! The owner of the wild bird feeding station on this particular property suggested his willingness to accept an invitation to speak to the city council on the matter. The invitation was not forthcoming.

KATHLEEN M. WORTHINGTON-LAKE,
831 Madison Street, Victoria, B.C.

PEMBERTON WOODS

Sir:—The move on the part of residents of the Gonzales district to induce the city council to add some four acres of land of the Pemberton Woods in addition to the three and one half acres which have already been dedicated for park purposes, should have the support of every taxpayer in the city. The preservation of 7½ acres of Pemberton Woods would provide ample space for playing fields and would offset the loss of Macdonald Park, where a new elementary school will be erected in the near future.

It has been estimated by school authorities that within ten years the school population in Victoria will have increased from 12,500 in 1952, to 18,500 in 1962, a total of 6,000 students.

Land set aside for recreational purposes in Greater Victoria are woefully inadequate, and compared to other cities of its size in Canada and the United States, Victoria is lagging far behind. Now is the time to set these areas aside, as once they have been subdivided for private dwellings, the land is lost to future generations.

THE TAX DOLLAR

Sir:—As the municipal elections are near, a letter on this subject should be timely. Municipal government is closest to us, the citizens, and is should be vital democracy in action. We can obtain the very best government possible by taking a vigorous and enthusiastic interest in our own affairs.

Governments have grown so much recently that nearly every action taken by them affects us for good or ill. A vigorous and active electorate will tend to make these actions largely for good.

Today in spite of high taxes municipalities are hard up, resulting in reduced services. Over the last decade or so our municipal taxes have doubled, our provincial tripled, but our federal taxes have increased eightfold. Thus not enough of our tax money is kept at home.

All the candidates in the recent election seemed aware of this tax problem and promised or suggested something should be done. Let's hold them to it by vigorous reminders so that a somewhat larger proportion of our tax dollar would be kept at home. This to be coupled with no surrender of our local authority.

Thinking Aloud

Gerald Waring

"... of shoes and ships— and sailing wax— of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

DULL boys and brilliant men; are they one and the same? Is a backward student automatically marked out for a successful career?

When I was at school there was a classmate who was rather a glittering chap. He seemed to mop up knowledge without even trying. Most of the time he sat in the dux seat. Arithmetic, grammar, history—they all came alike to him.

He was the examination master's delight.

There was another boy who plodded dully at the bottom of the class. He never came near winning a contest—they were held periodically with a stipend for first prize—in the two years I knew him.

Poor lad, he couldn't spell for toffee, his drawing was atrocious and his geography away below par. He was the examination master's despair.

I wonder what these two lads grew up to be, if in maturity they exchanged places.

If I am to believe a theory often expressed, that dullness at school is no criterion of ability when man's estate is reached, then the smart boy is probably digging ditches and the other one is a university professor.

Somewhat I fancy the reverse is more likely to be true.

I confess I have always been a bit sceptical of those stories of famous men who were lagged in their studies at school. They remind me forcibly of the advertisements that assure one without shadow of doubt that a synthetic Atlas can be evolved in ten easy lessons.

Have you ever noticed the peculiar coincidence that cites most of these teaching Samsons as having been sickly, weedy specimens in their youth, almost as though a delicate childhood was a sure passport to herculean prowess by maturity.

I find this thesis rather hard to swallow.

Ditto with some of the tales that imply that such-and-such a brilliant man was really a dunce as a schoolboy. It is true enough that an infant prodigy may burn himself into obscurity by the time he is a young man, or fail in adult life to make effective use of his mental gifts, but I fancy the chances are more that the boy who is smart at school is more likely to remain smart when he grows up, rather than the other round.

It is encouraging to the plodders, of course, to think that their brilliance is merely delayed and that in good time it will burst forth in all its plenitude and bring them fortune.

So perhaps we shouldn't throw too much cold water on such an idea.

Here is a bit of verse I came across, really about the clever and the good (rather than the dullard), but nevertheless not inapposite.

If all good people were clever,
And all clever people were good,
The world would be nicer than ever,
We thought that a possibly could.

But somehow, 'tis seldom or never,
The two hit it off as they should;
The good are so harsh to the clever,
The clever so rude to the good.

Too true, I am afraid, and a pity.
For not all of us can be clever, nor,
I daresay, can all of us be good.

Under the Clock

BY RAY RAINES
City Editor-Reporter

TOWN planning is a new and complex subject. It is also a controversial one, which is probably one of the reasons Victoria's Town Planning Commission voted early in the year to bar the press from its meetings. Theoretical planning is not cause most people will agree that properly laid-out cities are more efficient, better to live in and more substantial than those that "just growed."

The trouble is that town planning has developed 50 years too late. Planning now means changes, restrictions and controls on the location and nature of industry on industrial development and commercial enterprise.

At this stage, then, there is bound to be controversy.

Victoria's Town Planning Commission, a group of hard-working voluntary laymen with established planning techniques to draw from, spend a good deal of their time on the problems of zoning.

No doubt they don't always agree among themselves whether to allow a junk yard here and wood yard there. Their decisions when made are only recommendations. City Council must be the final judge.

Unfortunately, the public knows little of what goes on during Town Planning Commission meetings. They are barred because the press is barred. When their recommendations finally reach the council chamber—and the public—they are cold, logical explanations with most of the meat cut away.

Council, generally, approves the recommendations because it respects the judgment of the body set up for that purpose.

But the Town Planning Commission is a public body making recommendations which do affect the public. For this reason the public is entitled to know not only about the result of the deliberations, but about the deliberations themselves.

Although City Council makes the final decision on questions of zoning, it is depending more and more on the knowledge of the town planners for guidance.

In other words, final passing by the council is in many cases just routine. Town planning is becoming a more vital civic function every year. It can directly affect the hopes, dreams and the lives of citizens. It is complex and vague to the average man because, as in Victoria's case, little is known of its operations.

Some of the town planning decisions seem inconsistent and unjust because the public knows nothing of the general pattern which brought them about.

The members of Victoria's Town Planning Commission have often been lauded for their conscientious hard work. If sometimes they make mistakes or unpopular moves, they needn't hide behind closed doors.

Most of what they do is appreciated, but if they opened their doors it would be also understood.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

Big old city houses are a little hard to sell, except as guest houses or high-class rooming houses. In many districts full of these big old houses there is a sufficient number of old residents to put up a sturdy resistance to the intrusion of boarding houses into their company. Some friends of mine bought one of these old homes. And their arrival as a private family was greeted with considerable relief and joy by the neighbors.

However, in front of this old home was a magnificent mountain ash tree, sometimes called a rowan tree by the more poetical. It stood in front of the house, close, and so shaded the front rooms on both floors that the newcomers could not see out. And by the time autumn was spent, and the robins, pigeons, starlings and various other birds had riotously fed on the mountain ash berries, strewn the ground and the walks with the husks of the berries, my friends decided emphatically that the tree must go. They had it chopped down.

There is one thing about a mountain ash tree: It apparently belongs not to the owner of the property on which it stands, but to everybody in the neighborhood—old residents across the road who are familiar with its beautiful form and its lovely redness in the autumn; the neighbors accustomed to passing by and viewing it as part of their personal landscape.

Hardly was the mountain ash cut down before my friends, the newcomers, were delighted with telephone calls. They were stopped on the street by strangers. The demand was: "Why did you cut down the tree?"

Worse than the queries were the shocked expressions of passers-by who, in a sort of double-take, walked by and then started violently, looked back, and walked on with sagging shoulders.

So, this week, my friends have put a neat board sign on the large flat nub of the stump which still stands on the lawn, on which the words are simply printed:

"It was dirty."

Reports From Ottawa

BECAUSE Canada is an important member of both the dollar area and the British Commonwealth, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent is in an uncomfortable seat at the conference of prime ministers which opened in London on Thursday.

His discomfort could become acute if the sterling block countries which make up the rest of the Commonwealth try to turn back the clock in economics, tariffs and trade in an effort to solve their dollar deficit problem.

St. Laurent and Finance Minister Douglas Abbott went to London determined to do all they could to (1) bring about a further expansion of international trade, and (2) get rid of the restrictions that prevent the free world from making the most effective use of the resources available to it.

Nobody at the conference is likely to oppose the first objective, or even the second as a long-range goal. But Canada isn't thinking in long-range terms. This country wants the sterling area to drop its import and currency restrictions, if not immediately, at least in the very near future.

As one of the dollar countries against which these discriminatory restrictions are aimed, Canada has all but lost its traditional market in Britain for foodstuffs and manufactures. To a large extent it has found an alternative market in the United States, but there are fears here that the United States market may not be permanent. The return to power of the Republican party in the past the party of high tariffs has done nothing to allay these fears.

Thus our government wants desperately to increase sales to the sterling area, and is ready to do some blunt talking at London if St. Laurent and his hard-headed finance minister think it will do any good.

As they left Ottawa for London last week, they were firmly convinced that continuation of the import and currency restrictions would eventually strangle what is left of the traditional Anglo-Canadian trade. Their argument is that such restrictions constitute treatment of the symptoms of the disease from which Commonwealth trade is suffering, and not treatment of the disease itself.

As they saw it, the disease is due to the efforts of the sterling countries to do too much with limited resources. Britain particularly has spread itself thin since the war. Much of Britain's economic strength goes into rearmament, social security, food and housing subsidies and foreign investments instead of civilian production.

Prime Minister St. Laurent may suggest that until Britain reduces the heavy burden on its economy, it cannot expect to put its trade back on a solvent basis. At the same time he and all other members of the Canadian delegation will carefully avoid indicating what they think the British should cut, lest they appear to be interfering in Britain's domestic affairs.

One thing appears quite certain, however. That is that the Canadians will oppose any course of action which they think would tend to perpetuate the situation. Particularly they're against any new system of Commonwealth preferential tariffs.

In the opinion of our government, any reversion of the old "Empire preferences" of depression days would be a disastrous turning back of the clock, a movement away from Canada's objective of free multilateral trade and a move which might destroy the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade which the free world negotiated at Geneva five years ago.

The Meaning of Socialism

(From The Winnipeg Free Press)

WHAT is socialism? Lloyd George once defined it in these words: "You cannot trust the battle of freedom to socialism. Socialism has no interest in liberty. Socialism is the negation of liberty. Socialism means the community in bonds. If you establish a socialist community it means the most comprehensive, universal and pervasive tyranny that this country has ever known. It is like the sand of the desert. It gets into your food, your clothes your machinery, the very air you breathe. They are all grubby with regulations, orders, decrees, rules. That is what socialism means."

Mr. Churchill once said: "The only logical end to the socialist road is the uniformity of the Communist system, from the brutality and tyranny of which the Socialists themselves recoil in disgust."

The other day in a message to the electors of the constituency of Wycombe, (which the Conservatives have carried by a larger majority than a year ago) Mr. Churchill put it this way:

"What is this fallacy (socialism)? It is that all the means of production, distribution and exchange should be owned and managed by the government through officials and public departments."

Socialists, he said, were people who were "bewitched" by this fallacy.

Today's session of the primary class in punning will adopt a Biblical tone, with the reading of a dispatch from Cardiff, Wales, where a man named Lyle was fined for stealing salt.

An American TV program, piped into the barn, has been found to increase the milk yield. No one knows why, unless it is that the cow lets go, feeling that nothing matters.

NUTS TO WHOM? The wrecker had the car. A few hours earlier, it had been an owner's pride, a sleek vehicle that had taken its place confidently in the line of traffic on city streets. Now one could hardly recognize the vehicle, battered as it was. The car had been one of two vehicles in a head-on crash which had resulted in deaths and injuries. One part of the car had not been damaged, though. That was a little sign fitted above the license plate at the back.

The sign read, "Nuts to you."

Handy as it is for slipping a parking ticket or a handbill under, it may be that the windshield wiper was invented by someone who had a paper cup in mind.

"It was dirty."

Damage Results After Crash Of Two Cars

Light damage resulted about 7:40 a.m. yesterday when two cars collided in the 500 block of Rupert Street. Police report drivers of the vehicles were Harold Donaldson, 522 Rupert, and Norman H. Toney, 530 Trutch.

At 5:30 p.m. Sunday, police attended an accident at Pandora and Quadra, in which Thomas Henry Guy, 61, of 897 Oliver Street, suffered cuts about the nose and shock. He was a passenger in a car being driven by Stanley F. J. Wiseman, also of 897 Oliver.

Driver of the other car involved in the collision was Robert J. Patterson, 1278 Kings Road. Guy was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and released a short time later.

About 11 p.m. Sunday, a car driven by Mary Chow, 334 1/2 Corbourn, went out of control at the intersection of Johnson and Wharf Streets, mounted a curb and smashed into a brick wall. The driver escaped without injury. Damage to the vehicle was described as medium.

'Long Lost' Deposits Armful of Wood After 20 Years in Gold Rush of North

Fable of "Long Lost" Norland, father's farm and was told one just about to turn in," he re- one of the Yukon's most amazing gold winter's night, just as he counted. "My father was sitting characters, was re-told in Victoria was about to go to bed, to get at one side of the stove reading yesterday by Ralph D. Crichton, out and bring in some wood for a paper and my mother at the other side, knitting."

The Victoria veteran of the gold rush was the man who gave 20 years later in Dawson over- shoes on. I had to get City, instead of getting wood. Norland walked six miles down the road to a small town, caught a train to a Bay of Fundy port and shipped on a vessel carrying him, including several years con- ing out of Victoria among his adventures.

In the spring of 1901 he was back on the first boat. He said he arrived home on Christmas Eve just about 20 years to the day from the date he left without a word. He had peered in a window, he said, and there was the old man still reading the paper, and my mother still knitting. "I walked in and dropped an armful of wood in the box," Long Last told his Yukon cronies, "and the old man said, 'About time you got back with that.' "So I came back North."

It was a cold night and I was

Grant Dashing Figure In Early City Days

BY JAMES K. NESBITT

A man of much mystery was Walter Colquhoun Grant, Vancouver Island's first settler to be independent of the Hudson's Bay Company.

He came here when he was 22, in 1819, made himself a figure, a dashing figure, apparently everyone liked him, though he was always borrowing; always broke and in debt; full of fun; in general, a carefree adventurer, who never married, but roamed the world until he died at 34 years.

He was Vancouver Island's first publisher. He wrote an article on this island and when he returned to London, he read it before the Royal Geographical Society.

These hitherto little known facts of one of the most fascinating builders of this province were pointed out to Victoria section, B.C. Historical Association, by provincial archivist-librarian Willard E. Ireland.

Members felt in close contact with Grant when they saw his silver-roaching horn and his gold-mounted ivory walking stick, loaned by Mrs. A. Douglas Macdonald. They were presented by Grant, before he suddenly left Victoria in 1853, to Mrs. Macdonald's father-in-law, Senator W. J. Macdonald, of "Armada Castle" in James Bay.

Grant was early left an orphan. Mr. Ireland disclosed, and two uncles and an aunt cared for him, and therefore he was probably spoiled as a child. He went into the army—the Scots Greys —but he found the life confining. He probably wouldn't take discipline and so one of the uncles had to buy him out in an effort to keep him happy.

He was evidently a man of grandiose ideas, Mr. Ireland said and was closely associated with Brigadier Connelley during the past year with him continued success in what will unquestionably be an outstanding military career.

General Pearkes continued: "That outstanding military career has suddenly been cut short. I repeat that in my opinion

General Pearkes said he could not help thinking that if the government had been honest with itself, "then instead of retiring Brigadier Connelley, the real blunderer would have been promoted to the Senate. All I am asking is that the government make amends for the wrong it has done to this promising officer. Let right be done now. Let further employment be found for him so that the people of Canada may still have the benefit of the money they have spent on his education and the experience he has gained in the service of his country."

Lloyd Smith of Courtenay took first prize with potatoes, showing a yield of 25 tons to the acre. He won the Green Valley Fertilizer and Chemical Co. Challenge Trophy and $100 cash.

With a record number of entries at the Lulu Island fair, L. Gilmore of Richmond ran Mr. Smith a close second and Peter Flobbes of Grand Forks was third.

The potato award is an annual competition for growers in B.C. with yields of 10 tons to the acre, growing five acres or more in one field.

Grant left Victoria in December of 1853, telling no one of the reason, if any, other than restlessness. He left here also debts of $1,600, but, despite that, Mr. Ireland could find no evidence he was a scamp or a scoundrel. He went into the army again, and to the Crimea and to India and died in 1861.

Of interest also to members of the historical association is the big armchair recently presented to the archives by Major and Mrs. W. C. Merston. It was brought here a century ago by Dr. Alfred Benson and when he left he gave it to Robert Bryden.

Work Scarcity Faces Students

Victoria high school and college students planning on earning their Christmas money during their coming holidays will find a scarcity of jobs.

C. A. Mudge, manager of the National Employment Service office in Victoria, reported yesterday that there is little demand for extra Christmas help this year.

The reason, he said, was that many of the larger stores in Victoria have instituted an auxiliary staff system which does away with the annual "call for help." The stores have a list of persons, trained in their methods, who are on call for part-time work throughout the year.

Despite this condition, Mr. Mudge said the number of persons unemployed in this area at the moment is lower than for any similar period during the last five years.

He announced that this is a quiet season for employment opportunities usually but that fortunately existing employment is holding up much better than usual. He added that few lay-offs have been reported.

"The dry weather has proved a boon, especially to construction workers," he said.

Jobs now open here for men include: veneer-matcher, wood-working machinist, lathers, shoe-repairman, composition siding applicator, meat-cutter, furniture-packer, construction electricians, radio and TV mechanics, ship's electrical draughtsmen, hardware sales clerk, and floor covering sales clerk.

Jobs open for women are for experienced waitresses, hairdressers and stenographers. There is no demand for typists, cashiers or female bookkeepers.

Birthday Over For Churchill

LONDON, Dec. 1 (AP).—Winston Churchill went back to work today after a 78th birthday dinner with his family and a 40-pound cake shaped like the doughy prime minister's well-known square black hat.

Churchill spent the birthday morning, Sunday, in slippers and lounging robe at 10 Downing Street reading cards and cables from around the world.

At noon a crowd cheered him as he and his wife left for a private luncheon with friends.

Pearson Assailed

Brigadier Connelley thanking him for the "outstanding service you have rendered to the United Nations" cause during the past 10 months.

HIGH PRAISE

A U.S. major-general, in a letter to Mr. Claxton, said, "Never have I had the opportunity of working with a representative of an allied country that has given me more satisfaction and surely the question must be answered: Are we in or are we out of the United Nations organization?"

General Pearkes said he could not help thinking that if the government had been honest with itself, "then instead of retiring Brigadier Connelley, the real blunderer would have been promoted to the Senate. All I am asking is that the government make amends for the wrong it has done to this promising officer. Let right be done now. Let further employment be found for him so that the people of Canada may still have the benefit of the money they have spent on his education and the experience he has gained in the service of his country."

Island Man Title Winner

A Vancouver Island man has won the Grand Championship Potato Award for the second consecutive year.

Lloyd Smith of Courtenay took first prize with potatoes, showing a yield of 25 tons to the acre. He won the Green Valley Fertilizer and Chemical Co. Challenge Trophy and $100 cash.

With a record number of entries at the Lulu Island fair, L. Gilmore of Richmond ran Mr. Smith a close second and Peter Flobbes of Grand Forks was third.

Closing Averages Sharp Slump

In Oil Issue
TORONTO, Dec. 1 (C.P.).—Stock market prices declined Monday but golds resisted the trend for a moderate gain. Two issues dipped sharply. Central Explorers, an oil issue, traded 80,000 shares to close at $2.00. Some sales were made as low as $1.80 with the stock closing at $1.90. Dominion Asbestos traded as low as $2.00, closing at $2.10—a loss of 80 cents.

Bank Man Warns On World Market

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor
A blunt warning to Canada that it may price itself out of the world's markets was given yesterday by B. C. Gardner, president of the Bank of Montreal, at the bank's annual general meeting.

RECORD AT KEMANO

B. C. Gardner, President of the Bank of Montreal.

Records are being made only to be broken on the Alcan project in northern B.C. Yesterday it was announced that the tunnel-men of Morrison Knudsen of Canada Ltd. had broken the world record for rock tunnel driving when they themselves had established only last October.

The new record has been in driving the 25-foot diameter tunnel between West Tahisa Lake and Kemano power house, a distance of 274 feet in a week. The previous record, claimed by the company in October, was 238 feet. The new figure represents a distance of 45.7 feet a day.

The records are being made on the 10-mile tunnel which is being drilled through the mountains to bring the water from the Tweedsmuir Park reservoir to the powerhouse near the Gardiner Canal on the West Coast.

Morrison-Knudsen has teams working on four faces which are averaging about 900 feet a week. Already more than four of the 10 miles have been completed.

Referring to the rising standard of living which Canada had come to expect, the president commented that this could be achieved only by increased production.

"Yet Canadians are only increasing their output by about 1 1/2 per cent a year and it is out of this modest amount that all our social, defense, and social service bills have to be met," he declared.

U.S. DOLLAR STRETCHES
Signs that the U.S. dollar is stretching out just a little bit further are weekly being provided by a decline in the whole sale commodity prices in the United States.

The downward trend is notable in food prices. Dun and Bradstreet notes that in the week ending November 25, their whole sale price index, which is made up of the cost per pound of 31 goods in general use, had dropped to $6.23, four cents lower than it had been the week previously.

The last time the index was as low as this was on July 4, 1950, just after the outbreak of the war in Korea.

This compares with a high of $6.95 in August, 1951, and it indicates that the U.S. dollar is stretching out just a little bit further.

Ontario To Get Oil By Pipeline

TORONTO, Dec. 1 (C.P.).—Crude oil from Alberta will be piped directly to Sarnia, Ont., beginning early in 1954, T. S. Johnston, president of the Interprovincial Pipeline Company, said today.

Mr. Johnston said a 625-mile pipeline from Superior, Wis., to Sarnia is scheduled for completion during the last quarter of 1953. The new line will connect with the present line to Superior from Edmonton.

He said the new 26-inch line will be capable of transporting up to 300,000 barrels daily, should the demand in Ontario warrant that quantity.

The U.S. petroleum administration at Washington announced Thursday it had allocated 160,000 tons of pipe to the Lakehead Pipeline Company, a subsidiary of Interprovincial, for the new line.

City Holiday-Sitting Rates Won't Rise

Mrs. H. H. Wisdom, head of the right to change our regular City Holiday Sitting Service, said yesterday that there would be no increase in regular prices during the coming holiday season.

"We do not feel it would be fair to raise transportation costs," she said.

With a minimum charge of $5 and a maximum of $10, the agency is required to provide a driver and car for the holiday season. Mrs. Wisdom said that the agency has been in business for 10 years and has never had a complaint.

Tears Aroused By Smile Show

Here is a story from the diary of Jerry, a boy of 10, who took part in the "Smile Show" held at the Victoria Public Library last night.

BY JERRY GOSLEY

IN THE early morning, I was sitting at my desk, writing a letter to my mother. I was feeling a bit sad because I had just lost my dog.

There are many people who are sad because they have lost a pet. I know I am one of them. I have been thinking about my dog a lot since I lost him.

HIGH PRICES

"The high prices of wine and liquor generally have resulted in a situation that only well-to do persons can afford injury of any sort. Those of lesser means have done so at a financial cost which has been not only reflected on their own personal fortunes but those of their dependents. The individual without means in many cases has been driven to various forms of rotgut, such as canned heat, etc," he said.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

2. Next, it is important to gather relevant information and data. This can be done through research, consultation with experts, or by analyzing existing data sets.

3. Once the information is gathered, the next step is to analyze it and identify the key factors that influence the outcome. This often involves using statistical methods or other analytical tools.

4. After analysis, the next step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This plan should be based on the findings of the analysis and should take into account the constraints and resources available.

5. Finally, the plan is implemented, and the results are monitored and evaluated. This step is crucial for ensuring that the solution is effective and for making any necessary adjustments.

The density of the population is estimated by the number of individuals per unit area.

"It is a government responsibility to protect citizens from the evils of all alcoholic beverages," he said. He said it was banned all together, sale of liquor should be restricted as much as possible.

Fairy Tale Career of Lady Mountbatten Told From Childhood Days to Present in New Book

LONDON (C.P.)—The life of the late Queen Mother, Lady Mountbatten, is told in a new book, "The Mountbattens: A Family History," by the young Prince Mountbatten, who names the Indian Princess Poonam among his ancestors. The book, published by the Indian Princess Poonam, is a biography of the Mountbatten family, tracing its lineage from the 17th century to the present. It details the family's rise to prominence, including the marriage of the late Queen Mother to Prince Louis of Battenberg, and the subsequent royal marriages of their children. The book is a comprehensive history of the family, from its early days in the 17th century to the present.

The first of these is the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA), which has been the most influential of the medical journals in the United States. It was founded in 1883 and has since then published a wide range of medical research, including clinical trials, laboratory studies, and reviews of the literature. The JAMA has been a leading voice in the medical profession, and its publications have been widely cited in the medical literature.

Driest Year Possible

If Victoria has nothing more than an average rainfall in December, the year 1952 will go down as the driest year on record.

Weather officials reported yesterday that the unusual weather experienced in November, had already broken two existing marks and another new mark was possible.

Victoria had only .64 inches of rainfall in November. The pre-vinuous record low of .79 was set in 1943. Normal precipitation for the month occurred on 11 days, seven

Money Lack Hits Families

Some Victoria families may not have too happy a Christmas this year because of the lack of contributions to the Community Chest campaign.

Ronald Hooper, executive secretary of the Community Welfare Council, reported yesterday that the Christmas bureau which

Children Home After Dark, Parents Charge

The school day of many Central Saanich children is longer than the work day of most adults, rate—parents charged last night.

"My six-year-old daughter is away from home five hours a day in order to put in five-and-a-half hours' schooling," J. R. Walker of Wallace Drive said, "and besides that, she has to walk almost three miles over bad roads to do it."

The charge of unsatisfactory school transportation in School District No. 63 Saanich, was first laid by parents in September when changes were made in schedules to handle new schools erected in the summer.

In a letter from the school board, parents were told by transportation chairman Sidney Pickles that "early building up of a sound and healthy constitution through reasonable exposure to the elements should not be overlooked even when a considerable degree of fatigue in the beginning may result."

PERFECTLY SMOOTH

The school board letter added that the road is a perfectly smooth oiled surface for a distance of one mile from the bus pickup point.

"The road from Wallace Drive to Duranville, and up a steep hill to West Saanich where my little girl has to go is a bad road for children to walk on at the best of times," Mr. Walker said. "She has to leave home 7:30 in the morning to meet the bus at 8. She is in school by 8:15 and has a 35-minute wait."

Mr. Walker submitted a list containing the names of 21 children in his district who have the same long walk each day, and gave a daily schedule followed by his own child as her school day.

"She leaves home at 7:30, is in school by 8:15. This means waiting till school opens at 9," he said. "She is out of school at 2:30 in the afternoon, but has to hang around the grounds until 4 for the bus. She is dropped off at Duranville and the West Saanich Road about 4:15, then walks over a mile to home."

Last night the little girl arrived home after dark, Mr.

will be hampered this year because of limited funds. The bureau operates on a grant from the Community Chest.

Mr. Hooper added, however, that they were prepared to do their best to make Christmas as happy as possible for all concerned.

The Christmas bureau began its annual operation yesterday. Miss Martha McBride is again directing the work of securing lists of needy families who will be helped, and of aid which will be given by local welfare organizations and service clubs.

The main purpose of the bureau is to make sure that there is no duplication of help and to assure that no one is forgotten.

Wind Trouble Bothers Motorists

A number of Victoria motorists experienced wind trouble Sunday, but not the type of difficulty that might be expected.

Between 6:30 and 10:30 p.m. that day city police received numerous complaints from motorists who reported air had been released from tires of their cars.

Frank Johnson, 32 Lotus Avenue, reported such trouble, and while investigating, police found three other vehicles parked in the same block had been "treated" in similar fashion.

About 8 p.m. similar deflated tire trouble was reported by a resident of the new Redwood Park Motel, Gorge Road. Again police found other vehicles in the area with flat tires.

Tires of a car owned by J. Gillies, 2431 Irma Street, had their valves loosened the same night, with several other cars of the block also found with "flats."

Navy Children To Be Guests At Yule Party

The annual Royal Canadian Navy children's Christmas party will be held in Memorial Arena, Thursday, December 18 at 2 p.m.

The men of the ships and establishment in the Pacific Command will be hosts to almost 2,000 children.

Children of sailors on ships at sea at the present time have already been registered for the party.

Each child will receive a gift from Santa Claus and an ice show will provide the entertainment.

Anyone requiring further information may obtain it by telephoning B 1441, Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Patient's Father Also Isolated

A Sidney man, father of a boy stricken with polio several weeks ago, was in isolation at the Royal Jubilee Hospital with mild symptoms of the disease himself, medical health authorities said yesterday.

The Sidney boy and a Nanaimo man who were in respirators for several weeks are now reported "much improved," said Victoria-Esquamalt health officer Dr. J. L. Gaston.

Messian mercenaries who fought for the British in the Revolutionary War contributed to America's Yuletide tradition. Martin L. Davey, Jr., of the Davey tree experts, says the introduced the Christmas tree idea here.

...OUT OF YOUR POCKET

"... Yet another highly significant influence on the future course of events in this country will be the role we assign to the functions of government in the economic and social order.

"... The whole problem is under existing conditions the more intractable because of the obvious need for a high level of defence expenditures. But when all has been said, we are left with the fact that the demands of the community for civilian services provided by government seem to grow from year to year and the scope and nature of these services have expanded greatly in the post-war period.

"Added to this, there seems to be an increasing tendency to turn to government for protection against what might be called the ordinary hazards of day-to-day business. The individual usually recognizes that a distinction must be made between what he would like to have and what he can afford to have. But in respect of the services which people provide for themselves collectively, through government, this distinction is much less clear-cut.

"Be that as it may, the fact remains that the services provided by government must be paid for out of the pockets of private citizens in one way or another, the costs must reach the individual."

SAD SACK

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garls

UNCLE WIGGILY'S THANKSGIVING

The skilful scallier alligator with the double-jointed tail, who had hidden himself in a cave to sleep, was suddenly awakened as he heard a noise.

"I wonder what that noise is?" asked the gator of himself as he opened his eyes. The cave was almost dark, but he could see a little bit. "I certainly heard a noise, but I don't see anyone."

The gator raised himself up on his four legs and peered into the darkness. Still he could see nothing.

"It is too dark," he told himself. "But I am glad it is dark for now I can't see my double-jointed tail. That's a relief. I had been afraid it might be out there. And no one else can see my silly tail, either, to laugh at it. Maybe that noise was only the wind outside the cave. I will go to sleep again."

But, just as the gator was settling down to go to sleep again he heard the noise once more.

"That wasn't the wind," the gator told himself. "That noise was in the cave, and the wind can't get in here to blow. There must be somebody in this cave besides me. If it is anybody who has come in to laugh at my painted tail, I will tickle him with it!"

The noise sounded again.

"Who is there?" bellowed the gator. "Who are you coming in my cave? Who are you?"

"Ha! Ha! That's funny," growled a loud voice. "Did you hear that? Gruff! The cave! The idea. Wanting to know who we have come down in our own cave! Ha! Ha!"

"Yes, I heard it, Grim," said another voice. "Who is it?"

"Sounds to me like that alligator with the silly painted tail," answered Grim. "Who are you and what's your name?" asked Grim.

"My name is Scrapy," was the answer.

"Did I tell you children that the alligator's name was Scrapy? No, I don't believe I did. But that was the gator's name. Scrapy. He was always ready to fight."

"Are you the gator with the funny painted tail?" asked Grim.

"Yes, I am," was the answer. "I came in my cave here to sleep until the paint wears off from my tail. Then I can go out and no one will laugh at me. Now please go away and let me sleep in my cave!"

"Ha! Ha! That's a funny story!" laughed Grim. "Your cave! Why this is our cave, isn't it, Grim?"

"It sure is," answered Grim. "Now you get out, Scrapy!"

"Oh, please let me stay until the paint wears off from my tail!" begged the alligator.

"Gruff! We let him stay!" asked Grim of his brother.

"He may stay if he tells us why those animal boys splashed paint on his tail, just because he pulled down a ladder," said Grim. "It's years overseas duty. It fought in doesn't seem as if Billie, Jackie, Korea from August, 1950, until and Peetie would splash paint on May, 1951."

Hospital Costs in B.C. Disclosed Lower Than Those in Large Cities in Ontario

British Columbia hospital costs are lower, and wages higher than those in some large Ontario cities, it was disclosed yesterday.

Free Book on Arthritis And Rheumatism

How to Avoid Crippling Deformities

Book entitled "Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it. It reveals why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the cause of the trouble. Explains a specialized non-surgical, non-medical treatment which has proven successful for the past 35 years.

George Masters, administrator of Royal Jubilee Hospital, said the daily rate in two large Toronto hospitals was $15.99 and $18, respectively. He found that all Toronto hospitals had rates as high or higher than those in this province.

Mr. Masters' figures were obtained from a meeting of the Canadian Hospital Council and an address at the University of Toronto.

Resignation Of Martin Suggested

Health Minister Eric Martin should resign, states Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Liberal M.L.A.

"He told me, at a recent Rotary Club function, that he would see that hospital insurance was not made compulsory. Now that he has been over-ruled at the Social Credit convention, I hope he will have the courage to resign," Capt. Proudfoot said.

Elderly Woman Injured

An elderly city woman was taken to hospital following a traffic accident last night.

Mrs. Sara Brown, 70, of 621 Church was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from injuries and shock after being in collision with a car driven by Jean Calhoun, 1002 Vancouver, at the intersection of Quadra and Rockland.

Mrs. Brown was crossing Quadra at the time of the accident. Hospital authorities gave her condition as satisfactory last night.

Tory Choice Of Finlayson Applauded

OTTAWA, Dec. 1.—Major-Gen. George R. Pearkes, V.C., federal M.P. for Nanaimo, expressed delight today over the selection of Deane Finlayson as provincial leader of the Progressive Conservative party in British Columbia.

"He has shown as president of the Nanaimo Progressive Conservative Association considerable organizing ability which will enable him to unite all groups within the party," Gen. Pearkes said.

"His youth and enthusiasm will appeal to younger members. The convention could not have made a better choice, and I am delighted at Deane Finlayson's election."

Finlayson Due At Party Here

Deane Finlayson, newly-elected leader of the B.C. Progressive Conservative party, will make his first Victoria public appearance at the Christmas party sponsored by Oak Bay Conservatives in St. Mary's Hall, Yale Street, on Friday at 8 p.m.

Employees Meet Cabinet

B.C. Government Employees' Association and a cabinet committee opened negotiations in a day-long session Monday.

Progress of negotiations is expected to be reported to the association executive when it meets next Monday. The cabinet committee is to submit its recommendations to a full cabinet meeting. This could be tomorrow or Friday.

Full details of the program placed before the cabinet committee have not yet been disclosed. Wages, except for some individual classifications, would not be concerned in negotiations as the recent employees' convention placed no special emphasis on over-all wage boosts.

Robinson Seeks Saanich Seat

Henry G. Robinson, secretary of Vancouver Island Dairywomen's Association, has announced he will seek election on Saanich council.

Mr. Robinson has been a resident of Saanich 21 years and is a dairy farmer at Royal Oak. He is 38 years of age.

He ran for election last year and was defeated only by 40 votes.

Civil Servants Re-Elect James Carey

James E. Carey has been re-elected president of the Civil Servants' Association at H.M.C. Dockyard for a third term.

Other officers elected last night were C. McRae, vice-president; R. S. Clarke, secretary; A. Huck, treasurer. Executive members are J. Bennelack, F. King, M. A. Grant, H. McNeil and W. Frankum.

Mr. Carey rebuked Prime Minister St. Laurent's week end statement that civil servants are not justified in asking a pay increase.

Federal civil servants on the island today are the lowest paid in regard to the cost of living. It has been proved that the island has the third highest cost of living in the Dominion, Mr. Carey said.

He noted the take-home monthly pay of some dockyard men is $160.

Quebec servants enjoy the same salaries as here but with the cost of living about 30 per cent lower than here, he declared.

He felt the public would appreciate servants receiving a wage to compete against the cost of living.

Mrs. M. Dredge Funeral Set For Wednesday

Funeral services for Mary Elizabeth Dredge, 1413 Newport, wife of Rev. F. R. G. Dredge, minister of Esquimalt United Church, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at McCall's Funeral Home.

Mrs. Dredge died early Sunday morning at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

She was well known in Victoria before her husband received his present appointment in 1948. He was minister at the Oak Bay United Church previously. She was active in church work in Camrose, Alberta; Wilkie, Saskatchewan; Nelson and Kamloops before coming to Victoria.

In addition to her husband she is survived by two sisters, Miss Janet A. Weir, at the residence, and Mrs. F. J. Clarke of Irvine, Alberta.

Rev. Dr. W. W. McPherson will officiate at the services and burial will follow at the Royal Oak Burial Park.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass. (UP).—A goat in this town is apparently all mixed up on the advice that it's better to give than to receive. Paul Maciel discovered the animal in his sleeping child's bed after it had helped itself to the milk in the baby's bottle.

R. Wootton Named By Civic Workers

Two Vancouver Island men, than large scale wage increases, have been elected officers of the Joint Council of Public Employees, B.C. Division.

R. H. Wootton, Royal Oak, representing the Island council, was elected first vice-president, and W. C. Frampton, Victoria city employees, was elected second vice-president, at the B.C. division's annual convention at Chilliwack.

Other officers elected were president, Thomas Lewis, Vancouver; secretary, R. Mercer, New Westminster; treasurer, J. Robson, Vancouver; executive members R. Skinner, Vancouver, J. Fuller, Burnaby, and trustee L. Clarke, Victoria school board.

The council affiliated as a provincial body with the National Federation of the Public Employees.

General feeling of the convention was that employees should seek expansion of contracts to include medical coverage, pensions and other benefits rather than large scale wage increases.

Pioneer Dies At Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Harriet Ann Greenaway, 70, Nanaimo pioneer, passed away on Sunday at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Timmins, Chase River.

Mrs. Greenaway was born in Yorkshire, England and left there in 1888 with a party of 26 for Nanaimo.

Mrs. Greenaway's husband, Samuel, predeceased her in 1950. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Walter Beattie and Mrs. Chas. Wilson of Nanaimo.

Funeral services take place on Tuesday afternoon from Jenkins' Funeral Home, Rev. Dr. L. B. Henn of Halliburton United Church officiating.

You can't go ALL-OUT If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's busy living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "dreaded" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

New Penitentiary Policy Pays Off in Fewer Inmates

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP).—Canada's penitentiary commissioner says a new penal deal, stressing prisoner training and rehabilitation, is paying off. The plan was started in 1948 after a royal commission investigation into penitentiary conditions.

Maj. Gen. G. R. Gibson said results of the plan are reflected in a reversal for the first time in nine years of the upward trend in penitentiary population. Prison behavior was better and there were indications more

Attaching Of Troops Approved

BY BILL BOSS

IN KOREA, Dec. 1 (CP).—The Canadian government has approved attaching individual Republic of Korea soldiers to the 25th Brigade, The Canadian Press has learned.

The move is part of a plan to integrate Korean troops into United Nations formations, attached as individuals down to the sectional level.

Commonwealth authorities here are understood to have approved attachment of 1,000 Koreans to the Commonwealth's three brigades. That would give the 25th Brigade more than 300 Koreans.

Some United States army divisions are already receiving their first drafts of Koreans in numbers varying from 1,800 to 2,500.

An estimated 18,000 to 20,000 men would be added to United Nations forces under the plan. The Korean soldiers would continue to be paid by South Korea.

The South Korean government is said to have met with mixed feelings authorization of Gen. James Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army commander, to activate two more Republic of Korea army divisions and five regiments.

Van Fleet has announced receipt of this authority since the United States presidential election.

Fire Destroys Centre of Town

CORNER BROOK, Nfld., Dec. 1 (CP).—A large part of west Corner Brook's business section lay in ruins today, swept by fire which struck while work on the town's water system left firemen without sufficient pressure to control the flames.

Apparently starting from a furnace in the basement of a radio and electrical store in this paper-making town of 20,000, the flames Sunday destroyed at least 15 shops.

Thousands of dollars worth of stock, much of it just arriving for the Christmas rush, was lost. Some official estimates said the loss would be about $1,000,000.

It was the worst day of the year for fire to strike. Usually in case of fire, the huge Bowater pulp and paper mill here applies its pumps to the town's water mains to boost the pressure.

But the company was carrying out a conversion job Sunday and its pumps could not be put into immediate action.

former convicts were going straight.

The commissioner, in a 225-page report tabled in the Commons Monday by Justice Minister Stuart Garson, outlined prisoner privileges granted during the 1951-52 fiscal year which ended last March 31. Canada did not begin to have developed final or completely effective techniques, he said, but she was "moving in the right direction."

The report placed penitentiary population at 4,887 prisoners—4,712 men and 175 women. This compared with 4,817 in Canada's seven penitentiaries a year earlier. There were 1,859 admissions during the year, 137 fewer than 1950-51 and releases totaled 1,990, 71 more than in the previous year.

A total of 40.05 per cent of the prisoners were "repeaters," up slightly from 39.01 per cent the previous year but down from 45.45 per cent in 1948.
